

School Closure Daily Planning- Amethyst Class

DATE	Reading	Writing	Mathematics/Art	Topic Thu and Friday
Thursday 18/6	Check your answers to the questions that you completed yesterday on 'Endangered' Endangered Remember to let me know your score.	Today, I would like you to write and illustrate your fable, using your planning from yesterday. <table border="1"><thead><tr><th>The key features of fables are:</th></tr></thead><tbody><tr><td>Fables are short and basic, without too much detail about how the characters/setting look like.</td></tr><tr><td>Fables have a moral lesson and teach us what we should and should not do.</td></tr><tr><td>Usually there is a good character who does the right thing and follows the lesson.</td></tr><tr><td>And a foolish/ bad character who does not listen and does the wrong thing.</td></tr><tr><td>Characters are usually animals and forces of nature e.g. sun, wind; but they can also be people.</td></tr><tr><td>Fables are usually set outside, in the countryside.</td></tr><tr><td>There should still be a story to them so that they are fun to read.</td></tr></tbody></table> Using the checklist purple polish your work so that it is ready for you to write up or type in neat tomorrow.	The key features of fables are:	Fables are short and basic , without too much detail about how the characters/setting look like.	Fables have a moral lesson and teach us what we should and should not do.	Usually there is a good character who does the right thing and follows the lesson.	And a foolish/ bad character who does not listen and does the wrong thing.	Characters are usually animals and forces of nature e.g. sun, wind; but they can also be people .	Fables are usually set outside, in the countryside .	There should still be a story to them so that they are fun to read.	Using your new knowledge of circles- create a piece of artwork, using only circles.Remember the key words as you use your imagination to create a picture.Circumference Radius DiameterChord	Something a bit different... Read the first 2 verses of the 'What If' Poem by Michael Rosen. Then try to write 2 more verses of your own, using the beach theme. Illustrate the new verses.Can you copy the style of illustrator Quentin Blake?Blake? (Where do they recognise his work from?)
The key features of fables are:
Fables are short and basic , without too much detail about how the characters/setting look like.
Fables have a moral lesson and teach us what we should and should not do.
Usually there is a good character who does the right thing and follows the lesson.
And a foolish/ bad character who does not listen and does the wrong thing.
Characters are usually animals and forces of nature e.g. sun, wind; but they can also be people .
Fables are usually set outside, in the countryside .
There should still be a story to them so that they are fun to read.

Corsham Regis Primary Academy

