

The snail and the whale swam to the freezing cold Antarctic. They saw penguins jumping and diving into the dark ocean. There were tall icebergs that looked like they were made from diamonds.

The sun was shining but it was so cold that the snail hid back inside his shell to keep warm!

