Friday 10th December

Christmas is coming and whilst we find ourselves in times of uncertainty once again with a few more restrictions being put in place, we are in full festive spirits. Fox and Dickens... are busy rehearsing for their nativity and the children (and staff) are working incredibly hard learning songs and acting.

The rest of the school are also feeling festive, it is wonderful to hear carols being sung in preparation for our first torchlit carol service! Please join us at 5pm on Thursday 16th for a festive sing-song before we break up on Friday 17th!

Year 6 this week have been writing explanation texts and if you are in any doubt about how Santa gets his gifts to you, read Jude's very impressive work on page two.

Have a wonderful, safe weekend and keep warm.

How do Santa's gifts get to you?

Have you ever wondered how Santa gets those perfect presents or those glorious gifts to you? Well if you have this is about that and of course spreading Christmas' Marvellous Magic!

The letters

If you have sent a letter but are worried that it might not get to the man himself, then here's that little insurance to show how he will read it.

First, the delivery elves (the red ones) will go to the central pole and collect any new mail, they will then shoot off in their candy cars and head towards the scanning snow globe. (This is where the letters main details get sent to Santa's HQ.)

At Santa's HQ, the sorting elves (the pink ones) send the well behaved children's letters to the Sackings room but if your naughty the 'grim grotto' come calling.

In the Sackings Room

This room is where kids dreams come true. All the data from the recent scans turn into blueprints and the toy makers (the green elves) make the toys and then squeeze them into Santa's sack.

Finally, the elves alert Santa, who is finishing his big nap because of his late flight on the 24th. He goes out late the next night to deliver all those goodies!

In Summary, I hope you now feel almost sure a gift will be arriving under your tree but behave or say hello to the grim grotto.

Glossary

Grim - Father unpleasant
Blueprint - design, layout or a thing to build.
