

Friday 14th March 2025

This week in school, Fox Class went on their trip out of school to the post office in Corsham. This was part of their Wow Day, learning all about their local area which included some fabulous junk model building back in school, which they all enjoyed.

Key Stage Two children were treated to a dance performance from a company called Six-O and the performance was inspired by the book entitled 'The Man Who Planted Trees'. Our year 4 and 5 children then took part in a workshop where they had the opportunity to depict a narrative through movement and did this fantastically well.

We conducted two parents' evenings this week and as part of our drive to capture your views on the education we provide we asked for you to complete an Ofsted style questionnaire. We are always keen to share with you your child's progress. Should you require a meeting outside of these times, please contact the main office- we are here to help!
